

Wankee Nerve Has Been the Reason for Success of Americans in the Field of All Sports

EMBATTLED HOMEBREDS ARE READY FOR OPEN GOLF

Eager to Regain Honors Briton Won Last Year Many Climes Represented in Huge Field

By SANDY McNICLICK

As for any foreign sportsman who has followed international athletics the Americans have played their cards so far on the heights of sport that they will tell you it's the result of Yankee nerve in combat and a singularly developed competitive soul.

A nation esprit has sent our teams to international competition in a greater way than one of our athletes has ever done before.

It applies to golf and those who are playing it in the United States. The first of the States, which starts tomorrow at Washington, will see a plenty of competitive soul in action. It is the battle of the American professional golfers against the rest.

Jack McDermott said that for the first time in 1910, he stated before the club that "a foreign-bred pro would never again win the American title."

Jack McDermott, the super-golfer called world champion, is there, and he is not till late in the year. He finally broke through, and home-breds have won every other title since.

There has been a field of competitors for the American open and United States pro titles, and the United States pro title has been won by a foreigner.

Those possible will be credited to this country. Our amateurs are unusually strong.

The home-breds will have the best of their strength opposed to those who would lift the title.

Walter C. Hazen, Alex. Diegel and Jack Burke are closely punched as favorites again, though Tom Kerrigan's feat in the British open when he turned in the lowest card, will not soon be forgotten.

Willie McFarlane, Willie Mehlhorn, Emmett French, Charlie Hoffman, Frank McNamara, Mike Brady, Eddie Loos and Harry Hampton are among others whose past feats earn them consideration.

BLACK SOX FACE JURY IN SCANDAL

Defense Goes to Bat With Motions Designed to Keep State Busy

PROBLEM FOR "UMPIRES"

Chicago, July 18.—After two weeks "warming up" during which nearly 600 men were examined to select a jury, defense and prosecution today staged the first "inning" of the trial of seven former White Sox players and four alleged gamblers charged with a conspiracy to permit on Cincinnati to win the 1919 World Series from Chicago.

The defense went "to bat" with half a dozen motions designed to keep State attorneys hurrying to all corners of the legal "diamond" to prevent the defense from sewing up the game before it is fairly started.

There were indications that the twelve umpires in the jury box might be asked to decide merely whether such a conspiracy as the State charges was against Illinois laws rather than if such a conspiracy actually existed.

With those motions likely to involve the case in a maze of legal tangles, the defense also planned to inject into the trial the feud between President Ben Johnson, of the American League, and Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago club, American League, in an effort to show Johnson instigated the investigation to block Comiskey's chances of winning another pennant.

The former White Sox and alleged gamblers who went on trial today are: Edward "Eddie" Cicotte, pitcher, Claude "Lefty" Williams, pitcher, George "Buck" Weaver, third baseman, Charles "Swede" Risberg, shortstop, Arnold "Chick" Gandil, first baseman, Joseph "Joe" Jackson, outfielder, Oscar "Happy" Felsch, outfielder, Carl Zork, St. Louis, Ben Levy and Davis Zeiser.

Pottsville, July 18.—The Phillies paid a visit to this town yesterday and were victors in their tilt with the Crossona Tigers, 9 to 7. Lee Meadows started to hurl and held the Tigers at his mercy, retiring after the fourth inning.

Tray horned into the limelight with a wonderful catch, which made the third out, and two runs, Munroe, at his second base was the holding star of the game.

DUNDEE ON HEELS OF TWO CHAMPS

Chaney's Opponent for Tonight Believes He Can Whip Leonard and Kilbane

Baltimore, brought with him Frankie Rice and Danny Frush. Each will meet the only substitutes on the program, which is to be the maiden show of one Louis Malis, and who says he has several other boxing cards up his sleeve.

Rice was to have met Johnny Murray, of New York, but Murray is suffering with a broken hand. Harry (Kid) Brown will take Murray's place. Not a bad substitution. Billy De Foe, of St. Paul, was scheduled to meet Frush, but the weight, 125 pounds at 3 o'clock, was too much for the Westerner, and Al Wagner, of this city, will make his debut under Billy Gibson against the Harris entry.

All of the matches already mentioned are supposed to go eight rounds, then there will be a six-round opener between Joe Jackson, of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Sullivan, of New York.

Because of the long program the show will start at 8 o'clock. McCracken and O'Brien—both Franks—will be referees.

Tender's Get Ready. Lew Tender yesterday afternoon took his last dip in the ocean at Atlantic City until after his big battle with Champion Leonard at the Phillips Park August 12. The southpaw will be in Philadelphia today and make ready to leave for Delanco, N. J., where he will start training for his match with the title-holder, Delanco is just outside of Riverside.

While negotiations were on for Tender to take over the Airport at Atlantic City, where Jack Dempsey trained for his match with Georges Carpentier, Clarence H. Taubel, Riverside sportsman and boxing fan, came forward and offered his mansion for the training and a twenty-four-foot ring in the open also has been erected.

Ever since Tender has been in the city, he has been a favorite with the fans, but also boxes for recreation and Taubel probably will spar with Tender during the latter's work-outs. Tender will go to Delanco, Wednesday, and he will start work the next day.

As yet Tender's manager, Phil Glassman, has not decided on Lew's sparring partners. Glassman has a big list of available mittmen and will make his selection before Thursday afternoon.

Herman Taylor who, together with Bobby Gunnis, is staging the Leonard-Tender contest, is in New York today talking over plans. He not only is a fan, but also boxes for recreation and Taubel probably will spar with Tender during the latter's work-outs.

HARD LUCK FOLLOWS BRITISH TRACK STARS

McInness, Middle Distance Star, Third Member to Be Taken Ill Swamscott, Mass., July 18.—With only six days remaining before the international track meet between the Yale-Harvard and Oxford-Cambridge athletes, the pall of gloom hanging over the English quarters here was made still deeper when M. A. McInness, Oxford middle-distance runner, was confined to his room with a severe bronchial attack.

Both McInness, who won the Oxford-Cambridge-Cornell cross-country race last Christmas, and H. B. Stallard, star miler, who has a fallen transverse arch in his left foot, are under the care of Dr. C. Howard Bohannon. The latter stated that he believed the men would be able to compete Saturday, but could do no practicing for four and possibly five days. Stallard's foot was reported as better today.

McInness has not donned a running uniform since he landed, and while he is confined to his room his comrades twenty chance of winning the two-mile event diminishing daily.

This is the third British athlete to be put on the hospital list since the victors landed. Princeton athlete and Oxford's crack hurdler, withdrew early last week when he was stricken with appendicitis at Mount Desert Island, Me.

SCOTS WIN ANOTHER Third Lanark Soccerists Capture 23d Consecutive Victory, Score 2-1

New York, July 18.—Fully 6000 spectators witnessed the international soccer match played at New York Oval between the Third Lanarks, Scotland's famous visitors, and a team representing the New York Football Club. Although the home team was in splendid form, it succumbed to the Scotchmen by the score of 2 to 1, making their twenty-third successive international victory.

After fifteen minutes of exciting play, in which the New Yorkers had the better of the game, Wilson, the Third Lanark's center, took full advantage of an open goal. There was no further scoring in the first half, play being of the nip-and-tuck variety, both sides showing stubborn resistance.

With the score at 1 to 0 against them, the New Yorkers came back in the second half, and several times were dangerous, but were prevented from scoring by the splendid defense of Broeville, who scored three minutes from time when Philip equalized. One minute later, Bennett, with a long run, shot the winning goal. Some of the speediest and most exciting soccer was witnessed in the last two minutes of play.

The Peruchis A. C., of West Philadelphia, won one and lost one over the week-end. On Saturday the Glenwood A. C. was handed a 4-0 defeat and yesterday the Kenosha Club turned the tables on Peruchis, winning 5 to 4. Morrow twirled a great game against Glenwood on Saturday, allowing but two hits. The only run that the visitors obtained was tainted. Kenosha did not fare so well yesterday and the Kenosha stockists got to him in the closing innings and socked his offerings freely.
